Pandemic and literature

Literature is the mirror of society. Whatever changes take place in nature and culture are immediately reflected in the Literature. Pandemic Covid-19 has a great impact on humanity. It created chaos and signs of future hazards. This pandemic reminded us of the memories and accounts of past pandemics. It reminded us that history repeats itself. Historical records provide us with the causes and origin of pandemics. It provides the data and statistics of the loss and death in the pandemic. Literature provides a humanistic approach to life in and after the pandemic. It represents the human struggle and fathomless sea of sorrow. Marry Shelly's, 'The Last Man', Albert Camus's 'The Plague', Edgar Allen Poe's 'The Mask of the Red Death' are examples of Literary works that describe the impact of various pandemics on humanity.

The aim of the National Conference on the Pandemic and Literature is to explore the theme of Pandemic in literary works.
